Why work at Nestlé Canada

For over 150 years, we've created a fulfilling work environment that emphasizes individual responsibility, opportunity and autonomy. We'll encourage your professional growth through continuous development, on-the-job training, and the potential for overseas assignments. We'll also support your personal growth with a people-focused culture and a flexible and diverse working environment.

We encourage our people to view their career as a journey - to think long-term about how they broaden their exposure and deepen their skills. Adopt this mindset and you'll find we are equally forward-thinking, recognizing your career priorities will change over time.

Excelling at Nestlé Canada means sharing our passion for our purpose of enhancing quality of life and contributing to a healthier future. It also means living up to our exemplary values which are rooted in respect for ourselves, others, diversity and the future.

Do this and you'll discover that our leading brands, our emphasis on growth and our scope make Nestlé Canada a unique career environment for both talented young professionals and experienced professionals from every discipline.
